TIB expresses concerns over project inauguration by ACC top leadership

TIB in a statement urged the Anti Corruption Commission (ACC) to maintain clean image and refrain from activities that are inconsistent and against its mandate. TIB urged this as the ACC Chairman laid foundation stones of two bridges at Lakshmipur which is inconsistent with its mandate.

In a statement on 2nd February TIB Executive Director Dr Iftekharuzzaman said, “Inauguration of bridges and participation in political party’s programmes by ACC leadership may create conflict of interest for ACC and hinder the institution from working independently and impartially”. “Its top leaders should keep in mind that, ACC is not a government institution though established by the government. If they fail to refrain themselves from conventional inauguration culture practiced by ministers and bureaucrats, it will jeopardise ACC’s professionalism and affect its image”, he added.

Dr Zaman also expressed concerns over slow investigation progress being carried out by the ACC against former and current lawmakers over unusual accumulation of wealth. He also called upon the ACC to demonstrate impartial and professional attitude in investigating wealth disclosure of the aspiring parliamentarians of the 10th parliament. Mentionable that, the ACC chief laid foundation stones of two bridges in Lakshmipur district on February 1st and participated a dinner organised by local municipality mayor – a local political leader. The ACC leaders must not take part in any such event apart from investigating alleged corruption cases and anti-corruption campaigns, the statement urged.

Message development workshop on Climate Finance held

TIB organised a message development workshop on ‘Climate Finance’ from 18-20 February for its staff, Climate Finance Governance Network (CFGN) and YES members to strengthen their knowledge and skills on systematic process of message development so that they are capacitated with the knowhow of message development on climate finance. A total of 25 participants with varied capacities and skills attended the workshop. Participants were oriented with different tools and techniques of message and material development and proven communication method. Participants were divided into five groups – each group developed one problem statement and recommended solutions focusing on desired behavior, barrier to communications, motivational factor (benefit) to be applied and preferred media to be used to communicate solution.
Chief Whip’s speech is unconstitutional and a bad omen for governance

TIB urged the Chief Whip to withdraw his anti-constitutional remark ‘demanding cash instead of crest’ in a reception at Patuakhali on 7th February. TIB also urged the Prime Minister and the Speaker to examine whether such corruption friendly remark coincides with the honor of this high esteemed position.

In a statement issued on 9th February TIB’s Executive Director Dr Iftekharuzzaman said, “Chief Whip’s speech aired and published in the media is not only abhorrent but also a bad omen for governance and democracy. Such unprecedented speech is directly against Prime Minister’s zero tolerance against corruption stance. It will inspire corrupt persons to act similar”. “According to section 20 (2) of the constitution any such income is illegal and we call upon the Hon’ble Prime Minister, Speaker and the parliament to inform the nation about steps taken in this regard.” said Dr Zaman

“By saying so, he has not only violated the constitution but also stood in favour of corruption. We are also anxious about an earlier call to pay taka one million as subscription by the MPs elected uncontested. Such stance of the government will create a realm of immorality in running the government and government affairs.” he added.

TIB feels that such remark of the Chief Whip is not mere joke rather a sign of institutionalisation of black money and abuse of power to accumulate illegal wealth revealed recently from affidavits submitted by the aspiring MPs. Chief Whip’s clarification to defend his position is quite unacceptable and the parliament should immediately pass the Code of Conduct of MPs Bill to stop such practices.
