INTRODUCTION

Over the past years, Transparency International Bangladesh (TIB) has significantly grown both programmatically and institutionally. We have the distinction of being the largest chapter of TI in the world implementing multi-dimensional and robust programs. This means that we are handling larger and newer resources, projects, staffs, partners and vendors. With this growth the policies and procedures related to Human Resource Management have required updating and amendments to ensure the high standards of transparency and accountability that TIB is known for, and is expected to be. Our main objective is to ensure that our Human Resource Management procedure and all actions, decisions and activities related to it represents high standard of efficiency and effectiveness.

What follows here is the amended, updated version and combination of TIB Human Resources Manual approved by the Board of Trustees of TIB at its 92nd meeting held on June 13, 2017. All relevant members of the staff at all levels and locations are expected to be conversant with the provisions of this manual and to fully comply with the same. The board and management hope that the policy will be fully enforced without any exception so that the underlying responsibility and accountability framework are strictly observed.

Performance appraisal should give both supervisor and employee an opportunity to establish two-way communication against mutual expectations on job performance. It should help supervisors and the supervised to identify and provide feedback to each other. Feedback may be given in order to:

- Remove performance gaps.
- Improve further for future growth and challenges, and
- Recognize and appreciate superior performance.

For new staff initial assessment shall be done on completion of her/his probation period. In case of transfer, supervisor shall assess the performance of her/his supervisees and send it to the HR unit, which shall send it to the new supervisor after due consideration.

6.2 Performance management process

Supervisors should consider that performance management is not an annual event rather it is year round activity. The process looks at the following important steps:

6.2.1 Determine, agree and share what is expected from the employee in terms of accomplishment of objectives and job performances in this context of his/her job description. This is usually set at the beginning of a performance year.

6.2.2 Sit together with employee to review and monitor the progress level of objectives or job performances and revise objectives if situation demands so. The period of such review may be a month for a poor to average performer, while longer period say 3 months may be needed for better performer. This review session may be formal or informal depending on circumstances. However, supervisor and the supervised employee should take notes on the outcome that may be used for future reference.

6.2.3 Complete annual appraisal in a formal way by using prescribed format and guidelines. The appraisal focuses on the following aspects:

a) Evaluate to what extent and how an employee has completed assigned duties and responsibilities as well as pre-determined targets within a specified time frame. In this context the aptitude of the employee shall be given due consideration.

b) Identify what should happen in future so that the individual can perform better and set a work plan for future for personal and professional development and better contribute to the achievement of organizational goals.

c) How to recognize superior performance so as to motivate the employee.
6.3. Performance rating

While evaluating employee performances, the following categories will be applied:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Score</th>
<th>Result</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 to 40</td>
<td>Unsatisfactory</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>40+ to 60</td>
<td>Marginal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60+ to 80</td>
<td>Meets Requirements</td>
